

Technically... we built this town.

Since 1977, Holman's has been a trusted resource for Nevada's architectural, engineering and construction community. More recently, we've provided the same level of expertise for organizations in gaming, education, government, finance, medicine, law and more.

Whether it's custom computer hardware and supplies, network support, CAD services and training, or business technology solutions, Holman's of Nevada has played an important behind-the-scenes role in our area's phenomenal growth and success.

By continuing to provide professional services and cutting-edge products, we'll make sure the future looks even brighter. Just like the city we call home.
